Statement of Policy:

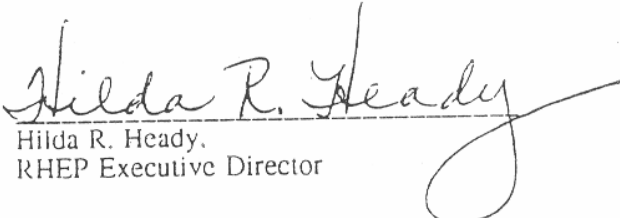

The WVRHEP state level Advisory Panel and staff will not establish salary and selection policies for consortium level field faculty and staff. These policies must be established at the discretion of each consortium. However, the following are guidelines for the establishment of consortium level faculty and staff salary and selection policies.

- Care should be taken to ensure that decisions regarding salary and selection policies are made with input from the consortium's full membership.
- Salary and selection policies should be approved by a majority of the consortium's full membership.
- As part of the selection process, field faculty must be interviewed and/or have their credentials reviewed and approved by the school from which they will have a faculty appointment.
